5^{Top} Q&A PROGRAMME DIRECTOR

Top 5 questions about the Master of Economics programme, answered by our Programme Director

Prof. Hongsong Zhang

What are the differences between the 3 streams: Data Analysis, policy Analysis and Theory?

The Theory stream provide a stepping stone for doctoral studies in economics, whilst Data Analysis offers rigorous training of data analysis for our students. The Policy Analysis stream is an ideal curriculum for understanding the making of economic policies, with a special emphasis on Mainland China.

Why is an understanding of Economics important in today's complex economy?

Economics studies the workings of our economy, interactions of individuals and the impacts of institutions, which lays the foundation for understanding the fast-changing business environment. It provides us with a rigorous and coherent framework to understand human behaviour at the individual and aggregate levels.

For PhD studies, can I proceed in other institutes as well?

Yes, it is totally possible. Students who choose further academic pursuit will find themselves well-prepared for PhD study at the institute of their choice afterwards.

Are the courses focused in evaluating the economy in Hong Kong only?

Whilst our graduates are well-trained to meet the challenges of the emergence of Greater China and the ongoing evolution of Hong Kong as an international finance centre, our courses also blend theory with empirical learning and case studies in the context of the U.S. and European economies.

What research opportunities are there for graduate students?

Our economists conduct both basic and applied research and publish regularly in leading academics journals. There are many opportunities to get involved in our faculty members' research agendas and get real research exposure.

Economics of Organization and Strategy

What is the nature of the firm as opposed to the market? Why do some firms delegate power while others keep power at the top of the hierarchy? How to design incentive structures to motivate and coordinate workers? Where does innovation come from? In Economics of Organization and Strategy, we employ rigorous economics methodology to answer these fundamental business questions. Based on our answers, we draw far-reaching business implications with particular attention to knowledge-intensive production and the digital economy.

HKU Business School is a world-class and prestigious academic institution with excellent professors and great campuses. The programme prepared me to develop critical and strategic thinking by looking at business from a different perspective, not only focusing on individuals or firms, but also on the entire economy. I gained an understanding of how the economic cycle, along with fiscal and monetary policy implementation, affects both the country and businesses. Through the development of skills in analysis, writing, and problem-solving, I am able to identify emerging industries where I can develop the most valuable businesses in the market. Choosing HKU Business School is definitely the key to success!

Studying Economics at HKU Business School is also a perfect way to enhance your understanding of markets and economic interactions between people, while at the same time preparing you for a job as a full-scale participant in the economy, rather than just an observer.
